BOY'S STORY IS CONFIRMED

And as a Result Clarence Peterson Escapes a Charge of Grand Larceny, After Promising to be a Good Boy and Attend School.

In the district court this morning, the case of the state against Clarence Peterson for horse stealing, was dismissed and the youthful defendant discharged from custody.

This was done on motion of the district attorney, who stated that, after the young man had pleaded guilty to the charge the other day and the court had withheld sentence because of certain statements made by Peterson, the officers had made a careful investigation regarding the statements and had reported to him that the boy was telling the truth.

"In face of these facts," your honor, "said District Attorney Harris, "I think it would be unwise and not in accordance with the law of exact justice, to sentence this young man to a term in the state prison. I find that he has borne a reasonably good reputation, and that the officers of the law have had no difficulty with him, except as he himself stated to the court the other day when he said that the attorney officer had requested him to attend school regularly and he had promised the officers to be a good boy in the future. He is just past 18 years of age, a time of life when a penitentiary sentence might do more harm than good, and I feel that he should be discharged."

The former plea of guilty was ordered withdrawn by the judge and the case dismissed, according to the request of the district attorney.

Peterson is the young man who a few days ago found an animal loose in the road and took possession, intending to appropriate it to his own use if a claimant did not appear. He took the animal to the jungles of Weber river, where he fed it for a number of days. The taking of a horse was reported by the Wilson brothers of this city and an investigation on the part of the officers disclosed the fact that it was the animal that young Peterson had in the jungles. Peterson was arrested and charged with grand larceny, pleading guilty to the charge as above stated.

THEY HAVE CAUSE TO REJOICE

The Weber Academy band boys are rejoicing over the receipt of ten new instruments, representing the expenditure of $1,500. The money for the instruments was secured through the earnest solicitation of Professor E. W. Nichols, with the business men of Ogden. Liberal subscriptions were made by a number of business men of the city, it requiring only a short time to secure the amount. Professor Nichols, instructor and director of the Academy band, states that the purchase of the new instruments furnishes a perfect instrumentation, and that the class now is better equipped for the work required than ever before in the history of the school.

Mr. Nichols says he considers the new instruments worth at least $2,000 and that they would cost more than that at retail music houses.

PICKPOCKET PLEADS IN COURT

In the district court this morning John King pleaded not guilty to the charge of an attempt to steal $18 from the person of Special Officer John Bothwell, September 7. The case will be set for trial October 22.

The facts, as related by the officers, and as stated in the information are, that on the day in question, at the Fair Grounds, the defendant thrust his hands into the pockets of the special officer, who was dressed in plain clothes, and was in the act of extracting therefrom something like $18 that the would-be victim had in his pocket. Before the theft was accomplished, the officers, with others, arrested King and landed him in jail.

INDIAN HAD THEM ALL SCARED

Tony Westfall, an Indian, who carried a thirty-eight calibre revolver, was arrested last night and arraigned in police court this morning on a charge of carrying concealed weapons. He was sentenced to serve 20 days in prison, but will most likely be allowed to leave the city.

The red man, after filling up on fire-water, displayed his gun in a Twenty-fifth street saloon and threatened to fill the place with smoke. Westfall's war whoops caused a general scattering of the barroom occupants and also brought an officer to the scene who took the aborigine in charge and locked him up for the night.

BEET SUGAR MONEY IS PAID OUT

More than a quarter million dollars will be paid to the beet growers of Weber and Davis counties this year by the Amalgamated Sugar company of this city. This amount of money will be scattered among 900 beet raisers, living between Brigham City on the north and Kayville on the south. The first payment made by the sugar company for this season's yield of beets was on last Saturday, when $75,000 was paid out. The next day of reckoning will be November 15, when it is estimated that $175,000 will be given out in exchange for the month's delivery of beets.

Speaking of the local sugar industry this morning, E. S. Rolapp, secretary of the sugar company, stated that the factory is now running full blast and will continue in active operation for at least two months.

"The yield for the present season is not above the average," said Mr. Rolapp, "for the reason that the seeding was rather late and the drought of the summer in several places reduced the tonnage. On the whole I would say that the absence of rain during the summer months reduced the tonnage in Weber county about 25 per cent. Yet the crop is not a bad one and the beets are of a fairly good quality. We generally use about 60,000 tons of beets during a season and we will probably handle about that many this year. What beet growers and sugar men want now is cold and dry weather so that the beets will not rot after they are gathered. Beets are coming in rapidly and everything is moving along satisfactorily."

TEN-DOLLAR FINE FOR A WOMAN

In Police court this morning, John Hemell and Art Curtis pleaded not guilty to the charge of vagrancy and were placed under bonds of $25 each, the case being continued because of the absence of the arresting officer.

Hemell and Curtis were arrested Tuesday and are said to be without any visible means of support. The men stated this morning that they came to the city to obtain employment and that they had promises of work here.

Oscar Olin, a young man charged with disturbing the peace, pleaded not guilty and was placed under a bond of $5 to appear for trial later. The prosecuting witness was not present.

H. Tarbert, John Hagen and John

Wolfe did not deny that they were each unlawfully drunk at the time of their arrest and the judge in consequence dealt to each of them a fine of $5 or five days in the bastille.

Ellen Harris, a colored woman, charged with vagrancy, pleaded not guilty. Witnesses swore that the woman was guilty of "street walking" and it was shown that on a previous occasion, when she was arrested on a similar charge, she had pleaded guilty. In view of the evidence she was adjudged guilty by the court and fined $10 or ten days.
